

? area

Laminate

solid wood edging

Partical Board Sustrate

The diagram shows a cross-section of a laminate board. It consists of a horizontal rectangular layer labeled 'Partical Board Sustrate' (likely Particle Board Substrate) and a vertical rectangular layer attached to its right edge, labeled 'solid wood edging'. A line points from the word 'Laminate' to the top surface of the horizontal layer. Another line points from the text '? area' to the top edge of the vertical layer.